JOHN CASHEL'S TRIAL

INTERESTING EVIDENCE FROM JAIL MATRON

Cashel's Escape Had Been Deliberately And Carefully Planned And Carried Out.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Calgary, Jan. 5.—At John Cashel's trial yesterday Flora Brayson, a young woman at one time matron of the guard room, swore that she became good friends with the Cashels. John Cashel told her that if Ernest failed to get a new trial that he would get him out. He would get guns in to him. Ernest would hold up the guards. He would find a horse waiting for him outside. He would afterwards dress himself in female attire and escape to Buffalo, Wyo., where he had so many friends that it would be impossible for the police to ever get him. He said he would not be near the guard room at the time of the escape and the police could prove nothing against him. If necessary, however, he was prepared to go to jail to get his brother out. Miss Brayson was asked to get a revolver, out refused. She went to Melville that before the escape. John Cashel wrote to her outlining his plans of escape, but ordered her to burn his letter which she did.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

At Fort Qu'Appelle Totally Destroyed By Fire Yesterday. Loss Amounts To $50,000.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Fort Qu'Appelle, Jan. 5.—The Indian industrial school here was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The blaze is supposed to have started in the room where lamps were used, and in a very short time it had gained such headway that beyond the saving of detached outbuildings, nothing could be done. The institution was the largest of its kind in Canada and at the time of the fire had over 200 Indian boys and girls in residence. Father Bugnard, principal, is absent in Ottawa. The loss will be at least $50,000.

OUPTAYS IN THE EAST

Ottawa Wins The Third Game For The Stanley Cup And The World's Amateur Championship.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—In what was probably the finest game of hockey ever played in any Stanley cup series, the Winnipeg Hockey Club was last night defeated by the Ottawas. The score stood 2 to 0. The pace was terrific and so evenly were the teams matched that for 15 minutes not a goal was scored. This finished the series and gave the Ottawas, who retain the coveted trophy, two games out of three. Winnipeg, will however, feel proud of their hockey team.

BEAVER LAKE EAST

The public examination of the pupils of our school came off on the 23rd inst. and was very successful. Quite a number of visitors were present. The children acquitted themselves well in the branches in which they were examined, as also in a short program of recitations, etc. Some of the drawings and compositions were good indeed. The teacher, Duncan M. McCallum, is giving up teaching for the present in order to advance himself educationally by a course at college. Who his successor will be is not known yet. We hope a teacher will be secured who will keep up the record for efficiency held by the school ever since it was started in 1892.

The crack in the ice on the lake is bad again this winter. A Christmas tree entertainment is to be held in the Presbyterian church on New Year's eve.

On the 29th inst. J. L. Porter, organizer for the Liberal-Conservative party in the Strathcona district, held a meeting here and a strong association was formed. The organizers are: President, Geo. V. Kiddah; Vice-President, W. P. Wilson; Secretary, Jas. B. Steele.

Since Angus McCallum's death several have been taken ill with the same disease that carried him off, but the attacks, though severe in some cases, were not fatal.

The weather so far this winter has been delightful as a rule, but some more snow would be welcome.

Some of our settlers are already at work in the Beaver Hills, getting out posts, logs, etc. As elsewhere, these at home are indulging in muskrat trapping quite extensively. Roger and Pierre Boudard are the most successful.

Dec. 29th, 1903.

FORT VERMILION

Items Of Interest From A Future Commercial Centre Of An Enormous Country.

Fred S. Lawrence arrived in Edmonton on Thursday evening last from his home at Fort Vermilion, on the Peace river, seven hundred miles north of Edmonton. Mr. Lawrence has been in the north country for years. In fact nearly all his life has been spent there, for as a boy he went to that country with his father, the Rev. E. J. Lawrence, in 1879. Benjamin Decoteau made the trip down from Vermilion with him. It is three years since Mr. Lawrence was in Edmonton, and although he had heard great reports of Edmonton's growth, he was greatly surprised at the wonderful progress of the town since last he saw it. The last three years has wrought a great change in Edmonton. A transformation from a sleepy village to a bustling growing town is startling.

Mr. Lawrence speaks with pride of the great northern country and especially of that part with which he is best acquainted, around Fort Vermilion. There is here a splendid country, very similar in size and other respects to Western Ontario. An exceedingly fine stretch of country extends from Fort Vermilion sixty miles east to the Red river, and 80 miles south to the Buffalo Head Hills. An equally fine tract of country extends north, north-east and north-west from fifty to one hundred miles from Fort Vermilion. Mr. Lawrence feels assured that there is a great future for this tract of country. The soil is a deep loam and is excellent for mixed farming purposes. Of this fine country Fort Vermilion is the present centre and the future commercial centre.

In this country, 700 miles north of Edmonton, up to the time Mr. Lawrence left, there had been no winter. Early in November a week of cold weather froze over the river. The continued warm weather and thawing in the mountains, opened the river from the mountains to about two hundred miles below Peace River Crossing. Early in November, at the time of the cold snap, about an inch of snow fell, but ever since warm weather has been enjoyed. The cattle were feeding on the ranges and were running fat. There is an abundance of hay in this country and everything considered it is a veritable paradise for either the mixed farmer or the rancher.

Mr. Lawrence left Fort Vermilion on December 3rd with Mr. Decoteau. They started out with sleighs and travelled one hundred miles up the river to where it was open. This necessitated the abandonment of the sleighs, for in this country as yet the winter roads for sleighs are thin and icy. Leaving their sleighs, snowshoes, blankets, etc., at this point they struck into the bush about two leagues above Lake. They packed their provisions on their backs and took one blanket with them—a rather scanty covering one would think to protect both of them over night from the cold of the northern waters. These two men, sleeping out at night with one blanket for covering, and striking through the bush, made the four hundred miles in thirteen days. Arriving at the lake they fell in with teams starting out for Athabasca Landing and accompanied them. Reaching the Landing, they found themselves too late for the regular stage to Edmonton. Not wishing to spend a couple of days at the Landing, they started out on foot for Edmonton, ninety-eight miles away. They walked all the way, making it in two days. It is on occasions such as this that the great difference is evident between the East and the West. Think of walking ninety-eight miles and doing it in two days in preference to waiting two days for the stage. This sort of life produces a very hardy type of manhood and at no place is it more noticeable than at Edmonton, as the traders come down from the great and practically unknown north.

The people at Fort Vermilion reaped excellent crops the past year. The early spring was dry, but afterwards the necessary rain fell and the crops were excellent. An early frost did a little damage, but nearly all the wheat, which grows to great advantage there, made good milling wheat and was bought by the Hudson's Bay Company at from one dollar and fifteen to one dollar and fifty cents a bushel. Barley grows splendidly at Fort Vermilion and oats are an excellent crop, but for some reason or other, very little is grown. Wheat is the staple crop. During the last year about sixteen thousand bushels of wheat, barley and oats were raised. All kinds of garden vegetables grow with the greatest luxuriance. Just before the haying season heavy rains fell but the season itself was dry and pleasant. During the early harvest there was more wet weather but no stacking ideal weather prevailed.

According to the number of settlers at Fort Vermilion and the great local demand, there is very little grain grown. This is largely due to the scarcity of good farm teams. A number of the settlers are coming out this year in order to get teams and the new settlers going in and taking teams with them will greatly increase the amount of grain produced. The wheat harvest commenced on August 17th and all the harvest was completed September 5th. The threshing was finished before there was any cold weather. There is one steam and two horse-powered threshing machines. The amount of grain produced last year was just sufficient to supply the local demand. There is very little to ship to supply the great demand from the traders who operate far to the north of Fort Vermilion, and also to those who trade along the upper Peace river. This strong demand, Mr. Lawrence points out, is a great inducement to settlers to come into the country and engage in mixed farming. All kinds of farm produce find an unlimited market to the north. The Hudson's Bay Company's roller mill is running and is giving excellent satisfaction. In gristing for the farmers they hold back one fifth of the grain. There is also a sawmill there with a planing and shingle mill in connection. Undressed lumber sells at $15, and shingles at $3.50 a thousand. Flour, strong bakers, sells at $5.50 per hundred and second quality $5.50 per hundred. The freight on flour hauled from Edmonton would be six dollars a hundred weight. There is a great demand for bacon at Fort Vermilion, but very few hogs are raised, as there is not enough grain grown to permit of keeping a large number of hogs.

As one would naturally suspect, there is considerable delay in the delivery of mails in this northern country. The people of Fort Vermilion have their own troubles. The last mail they received was in August of last year by steamer. Since then the mail had lain at Peace River Crossing, piled up in great quantities. The letters will be forwarded to Fort Vermilion this month, but no papers will be brought through until late in May.

The fur catch in the north the past year was exceedingly good and the Indians are in a prosperous condition. There are two trading companies at Vermilion, the Hudson's Bay Company and Bredin & Cornwall. Fred Brick is in charge of Bredin & Cornwall's trading post. The raising of foxes at Fort Vermilion has developed into an industry of considerable magnitude. Nearly everybody engages in it and last year over one hundred and forty foxes were raised. Included in this number were twelve of the valuable silver foxes. Fred Lawrence had an excellent black fox which he kept until well grown when it succeeded in making its escape.

Mr. Lawrence met with a great loss on December 24th, a year ago, by having his house burned. All the family clothing and Mr. Lawrence's library were lost and the family barely escaped. He is now rebuilding. He is greatly obliged to his neighbors who assisted him greatly at the time of his misfortune. He will return to Vermilion shortly with teams, machinery and supplies. A number of settlers with whom Mr. Lawrence has been in communication will go with him. They will drive with light loads on the ice from Peace River Crossing for three hundred miles. He will leave about the first of February and take part of his supplies as far as Peace River Crossing. Returning to Edmonton he will reload and make the trip through. In this way he will leave Edmonton on the last trip about the end of March. A very large number of enquiries have reached Mr. Lawrence from all parts of the world. It is evident that people have their eyes set toward the great north country and nobody has it's more enthusiastic champion than in Mr. Fred Lawrence. Fort Vermilion has a population of about three hundred. There are seven or eight families of white and the rest are English-speaking half-breeds. Mr. Lawrence has a brother, F. N. Lawrence, and a sister in Fort Vermilion at present. H. H. Lawrence. Continued on Page Three.

INTERESTING JUDGE-MENT

A very interesting judgment was rendered on Thursday last by Justice Scott. In June last Police Magistrate Cowan found Gilbert Plante guilty of having supplied liquor to one Hoover, an interdicted person, and sentenced him to two months' imprisonment with hard labor or fifty dollars and costs. On appeal Justice Scott held that the magistrate had no jurisdiction in this case to impose hard labor and that as the Supreme Court could not amend a conviction made by a Justice of the Peace for an offense against a provincial law, the conviction against Plante should be quashed. Plante therefore, won his case. N. Newell appeared for the prosecution. Wilfrid Gariepy represented the defendant, Plante.

THE FARMER'S CANDIDATE

Strathcona is not the only constituency in the Dominion, by any means, which will have a farmer's candidate in the field. Mr. Walter Uppier, of Allanburg, Welland County, Ontario, has announced his intention of contesting the riding, inasmuch as the two parties have not brought out a farmer.

Some of the party wire pullers say the candidature of Mr. Gregory will split the parties. Who composes the parties in this constituency? The true answer is, "The farmers." We are not divided amongst ourselves to any great extent. A few may adhere to their old party, but the great majority are for a man of their own. In Mr. Gregory we have a man who farms every day in the year, gets his living by farming and that alone. Therefore his committee appeals to the farmer individually to work to secure his return by a large majority.

The first council meeting for 1904 was held last night.

Edmonton hockey team has challenged for the Hurston shield, now held by Strathcona.

R. Seord, M.L.A., has donated a purse for the hockey championship of the Northwest Territories.

The annual business meeting of the Edmonton Presbyterian Sunday school was held last night.

Wednesday, Jan. 6th, being Epiphany day, the land and registry offices, Edmonton, will be closed.

Harry Liversidge, the two year old son of A. H. Liversidge, Edmonton, while playing about the house on Sunday morning fell and broke his leg. He is now improving nicely.

The Conservative convention in the Strathcona constituency for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the constituency in the approaching Dominion elections takes place in Strathcona this afternoon.

Many Strathcona hockeyists wish to have it stated through the Bulletin that they have not and have no intention of refusing to again engage sticks with Edmonton this year, as has been stated owing to the unsatisfactory ending of the New Year's match in Strathcona.

The Board of Trade held a meeting in the council chamber this morning to consider the question of the circulation of American silver. In the opinion of the meeting it was considered impracticable to discount American silver at twenty per cent. and that other means should be taken to get rid of it. Arrangements will be made with one of the banks to have it shipped out of the country.

Reporter.—On Saturday evening last, James Burns, of Bruderheim, aged thirteen, met with a very serious accident. A companion picked up a large old fashioned horse pistol, not knowing it was loaded, presented it and fired at him. A charge of shot struck him full in the face, penetrating in all directions. Happily both boys escaped injury. Dr. Bennett found it necessary to cut out thirteen pellets which were in dangerous positions and the boy is doing well. He had a narrow escape as some of the shots extracted were flatter right out against the bones.

The funeral of Mr. A. H. Taylor, of Lake St. Anne took place to the Edmonton cemetery on Thursday afternoon last. The funeral was large. The pall bearers were Fred W. Gardner, G. J. Kimmard, Harrison Young, T. F. Fisher, Jno. E. Graham and Henry Fraser. Five of these pall bearers were ex-Hudson's Bay Company officers. Mr. Fisher was the only present employee of the Hudson's Bay Company present at the funeral. The late Mr. Taylor was a veritable Old Timer and was in many respects a remarkable man. A more extended notice of his life will appear in another issue.

The Edmonton school of physical culture was opened last night in the top story of the Queen's avenue public school building. A. Hencher is instructor in charge. A considerable number were present and Mr. Hencher gave an exhibition of the work he will carry on. The gymnasium is extensively fitted up and besides furnishing an opportunity for physical development will be a convenient and beneficial place to spend a winter's evening. Young men's classes are on Monday and Thursday nights, boys, Tuesday and Friday nights and girls Saturday morning. Mr. Hencher is drill instructor for Edmonton public schools.

V. Gourreau, of Star, is spending a few days at his home in Edmonton.

G. H. V. Bulgea, minister of public works, Regina, arrived in Edmonton last night.

Alfred Kent, of Lacombe, arrived in Edmonton last night and will spend the balance of the winter here.

W. S. Crow, of Lacombe, Conservative organizer in the Strathcona constituency, arrived in Edmonton last night.

Rev. Bishop Legal, of St. Albert, was in town on Saturday. The Seminary at St. Albert reopened on January the 4th.
